Apple iPhone owners in need of handwriting support can now use the new OrionGadgets iPhone Stylus, as handwriting recognition is coming with the upcoming iPhone v2.0 firmware.

Apple iPhone owners in need of handwriting support can now use the new OrionGadgets iPhone Stylus, as handwriting recognition is coming with the upcoming iPhone v2.0 firmware, due to be released in early July by Apple Inc.

The iPhone Stylus features a soft touch tip that will not scratch your iPhone's touch screen, while protecting it from fingerprint smudges. OrionGadgets iPhone Stylus was designed for ease of use and peace of mind; whether you're using it to tap on the touch screen or to write on it, the iPhone Stylus guarantees precise touch and control.

Made from durable material, the iPhone Stylus comes in black color. It currently retails for $10 USD and is available now at <http://www.oriongadgets.com>.
